GRANITE SHIELD

Example: An applicator sealed 2 granite countertops seal jobs April 13th. One was approximately 80 miles north from their home to Granada Hills. Sealed 80 sq. ft. for granite and charged $6.00 a sq. ft. and backsplash that came out to $513.00. The seal job took approximately 1 hour and then had lunch at In and Out Burger and was there approximately 1/2 hour. Drove north/east to Palmdale and is approximately 50 miles form Granada Hills. The applicator sealed approximately 80 sq. ft. of granite and backsplash. The seal job came to $513.00. Total round trip was approximately 340 miles and used around a 1/2 of tank of gas in a 2002 Chevy Avalanche truck.

The same applicator sealed one marble countertop on April 15th in Redondo Beach. The marble countertop was approximately 40 sq. ft. the applicator charged $6.00 a sq. ft. and the minimum of $360.00 the applicator spent less than 1 hour there and will be going out in the future to seal the exterior. Redondo Beach is approximately 60 miles from the applicator's home.

2 days worth of work - reality less than 4 actual working hours for 3 seal jobs. The applicator received $1,386.00. The applicator off of one gas fill up still has not had to fill up the tank full of gas for days. Of course you have to minus chemical costs. Most people would love the opportunity to earn $1,386.00 in less than 4 hours and keep in mind very little chemical was used and very little gas in the truck was used. Most people out of their own income have to pay for their gas going to and from a job no matter what kind of job they have. Most people don't get paid going to and from a job. The opportunity is here to make a good income.
